

Kingston Public Library
1004 Bradford Way
Kingston, Tennessee 37763

Steve Jacks
Director of Library Services

865-376-9905
directorkpl@bellsouth.net
www.kpltn.org

Press Release

For more information please contact Director of Library Services
Steve Jacks at 865-376-9905

Dr. Bill Bass to Speak February 16 At Kingston Community Center

Dr. Bill Bass will be the guest speaker at the Kingston Community Center, Feb. 16, 2009. The event is sponsored by the Kingston Public Library and is free to the public. Dr. Bass will speak at 6:30 about his new book "Bones of Betrayal" which came out on February 3. The book deals with two deaths occurring 50 years apart and both linked to the "Manhattan Project", the World War II race to create the atomic bomb.

Dr. Bass's book "Bones of Betrayal" will be for sale in the Kingston Community Center lobby and at the Kingston Public Library. Books are $25.00 each.

For more information about the program contact Diana Cash at 865-376-9905

Children's Program at Kingston Public Library Underway Following Winter Break

Kingston Public Library is happy to announce the on-going weekly Children's program will pick back up in January. Every Wednesday at 11:00am the Library's Children's Program director, Ms. Barbara will read to children and help them with crafts, play time, etc. Ms. Barbara has been the Children's Program director for 16 years and has many fun and unusual projects for kids. Children to school age are welcome. All books and materials are supplied by the Kingston Public Library. For more information about the program contact Barbara Thorjbornsen at 865-376-9905.

